Interview with a Submersible Pilot

Interview with Erika Bergman, Pilot of Antipodes, OceanGates Submersible. Shot and Edited by Fabio Esteban Amador

The BLUE Ocean Film Festival is a seven-day gathering of filmmakers, ocean scientists, conservationists, and award winning marine photographers and cinematographers. BLUE's primary goal is educational for the most part, but it also offers networking opportunities for

About This Blog

Every hour of every day, somewhere on Earth National Geographic Explorers are at work trying to uncover, understand, or help care for some small part of the world around us.

These are some of their stories.
