

Content Marketing Software

BUILD YOUR OWN CONTENT MARKETING MACHINE

Live Demo & 30 day Free Trial

AdChoices

Water Oceans, Beaches, Rivers, Lakes ...

See More

Film Festival Highlights Plight of the Oceans

Katharine Gammon, OurAmazingPlanet Contributor - Oct 04, 2012 05:15 PM ET

Recommend 25

Tweet 8

+1 0

Share

Top Displays for Retail

In-Stock To Custom, We Deliver In Time & Within Budget. Visit Online!

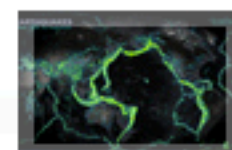

www.meridian-display.com

MONTEREY, Calif. — James Cameron, Richard Branson and the His Serene Highness Prince Albert II of Monaco were just a few of the stars who came here in support of the world's oceans at last week's biennial Blue Ocean Film Festival, which showed more than 100 films over the course of the week that aimed to bring awareness to the various problems facing the world's seas.

The festival ended Friday, with the top award going to "The Island President"

Universal Orlando Resort advertisement featuring SpongeBob, Patrick, and a T-Rex. Text includes: 'SUPERSTAR PARADE', 'CINEMATIC SPECTACULAR', 'Stars Are Out All Day & Night!', 'LEARN MORE', 'SEE WHAT ELSE IS NEW IN 2012'

MOST POPULAR ARTICLES

Stunning Map Reveals World's Earthquakes Since 1898

11,208 views

Explosive Volcanic Eruptions Caused